(VOTES FOR WOMEN)

EMMELINE

PANKHURST

Emmeline Pankhurst was a British political activist born in Manchester. She was best known for organizing the UK suffragette movement.

New Zealand was the first country to allow women to vote in 1893.

Women's football became popular. Football is normally seen as a male sport and that hasn't changed today.

Women's Rights

I celebrated Women's Day in celebration. Month 8th around the world. It was celebrated in the UK in 1947.

Women worked in positions, farms, banks, and even soldiers during WWI.

The first female police officer was introduced during WWI.

During WWI, women were asked to take a job at home every regarded around the world. They were not able to study, respect serious learning, medicine, or any other serious work.

There are 2 types of suffrage: suffrage (villid) and suffrage (people).
